

SECURITY

Case study

Ashton in Makerfield

Surveillance, access control, perimeter detection and covert systems are efficiently installed and maintained by expert teams who are also available for emergency repairs; leaving you free to concentrate on business with an easy mind.

Southern & Redfern Building Services were chosen to install a security system at the new premises of a leading logistics company in Ashton in Makerfield.

The system comprises of a 32 channel DVR. Internal CCTV Cameras of which there are four full function dome cameras with detectors covering the external doors were installed. Domes were installed outside to cover the external elevations of the property. These were linked to Optex Redwall detectors, covering the loading bays and car park area. A security fence was installed within the warehouse and an access control system was used to control entry into this secure area.
